Kids at Work Cooking Class

Lamar was having trouble in school. He was distracted, not interested, and had little support from his family. Lamar knew that he was not college bound and wondered what kind of job he could find with only a high school diploma. Kids At Work, an afterschool program teaching culinary and interpersonal skills to students, gave Lamar the opportunity to find work as a chef. More importantly, it gave him skills that he can use for the rest of his life. ABC is delighted to be partnering with Kids At Work by hosting their Monday classes in our kitchen. What a great way to offer love and care to the youth in our community! For more information, you can visit their website: <http://kidsatworknc.com/>.
